

Color Charge Agreement

Authors may submit images for color reproduction in Journal of Applied Poultry Research but must agree in writing to pay the extra cost of color printing before a manuscript can go through production. If color offprints are ordered, an additional surcharge will apply, depending on the number of color figures and quantity of offprints ordered.

The current charge for color is US$995 per color figure.

If a figure is intended for publication in color, the corresponding author should note his/her agreement to pay the additional charge on the form below. The form should be faxed to the editorial department at 217-378-4083 or e-mailed to journals@assochoq.org.
